

Client Onboarding Process

Document COM-04 | Commercial Department | Revision 3, March 2025

1. Overview

This document describes the end to end process for onboarding a new freight or warehousing client, from initial qualification through to the first live shipment. Target elapsed time from signed proposal to first booking is ten working days.

2. Stage One: Qualification

The commercial lead records the opportunity in the CRM and captures expected monthly volume, primary lanes, commodity type and any temperature or hazardous handling requirement. Opportunities below an expected twenty tonnes per month are referred to the partner network rather than onboarded directly.

3. Stage Two: KYC Documentation

The following documents must be collected and verified before any contract is issued. No exceptions are granted at branch level; waivers require written approval from the Commercial Director.

- Certificate of incorporation or business registration certificate.
- National Tax Number (NTN) certificate.
- Sales Tax Registration Number where the client is sales tax registered.
- CNIC copies of all directors or proprietors.
- Board resolution or letter of authority naming the authorised signatory.
- Bank account maintenance certificate issued within the previous three months.
- Two trade references from existing logistics or supplier relationships.

Documents are uploaded to the client folder and verified by the compliance officer within three working days. Verification includes a check of the NTN against the FBR portal and a screening of directors against the internal restricted parties list.

4. Stage Three: Credit Assessment

Clients requesting credit terms undergo assessment by the finance team. Standard terms are payment within 30 days of invoice. Clients without an established trading history are onboarded on advance payment terms for the first three months, after which terms are reviewed.

5. Stage Four: SLA Sign-off

The service level agreement is drafted by the commercial lead from the standard template and must specify: committed transit times per lane, pickup cut-off times, proof of delivery turnaround, claims handling process, and the agreed rate card with its validity period.

Sign-off requires, in order: review by the operations manager to confirm the committed transit times are achievable on the stated lanes; review by finance to confirm rates and payment terms; countersignature by the Commercial Director; and finally execution by the client's authorised signatory. An SLA is not valid until all four steps are complete and the executed copy is filed in the client folder.

6. Stage Five: Activation

On execution, the operations team creates the client account in the transport management system, configures the agreed rate card, assigns an account coordinator and schedules a kick-off call. A review is held after the first thirty days to confirm that service levels are being met and to resolve any process friction.
